

Urge delaying the precipitous rule change that would allow further concentration of media ownership into the hands of a few. Such a change would further erode the democratic process and the public's access to diverse and complete information. This would constitute a major restriction of freedom of press. At very least, time must be allowed for thorough exposure and discussion of this proposed change by the citizens of this nation and their elected representatives.